Council Bans Parking On N. Ellsworth, Lincoln Aves.

Okays Pay Boosts For 2 City Officials

In a half-hour session Tuesday night, Salem City Council passed as emergency legislation an ordinance prohibiting parking on N. Ellsworth Ave. and all of Lincoln Ave., in compliance with terms of an agreement concluded this year between the city and the Ohio Highway Department.

The ban will go into effect immediately.

The lawmakers also approved two ordinances increasing the salaries of Utilities Superintendent

Aubrey Hayes and Auditor Helen Coyne, and passed a pair of laws affecting the city zoning code.

City officials agreed last April to prohibit parking on N. Ellsworth and Lincoln Aves. if the state paid 80 per cent of the estimated $100,000 cost of repaving the streets.

The agreement had been requested by Division 11 of the Ohio Highway Department as a prerequisite to the preliminary cost survey.

The state will not aid cities with cost of repaving segments of state highways within the municipalities unless parking bans are imposed on the affected streets.

The state subsequently completed resurfacing of the streets here (4.5 miles), and the county shared the $20,600 cost which the state did not bear.

Council began action to prohibit parking on the streets but deferred final passage following complaints from affected property owners who objected to paying assessments on the project while being deprived of parking privileges.

The salaries of Hayes and Mrs. Coyne were increased $100 each a month.

Hayes' salary will now be $800 a month and Mrs. Coyne's, $500.

The municipal employees are receiving raises because of increased responsibility, Finance Chairman Fred Koenreich said earlier this month when the raises were broached.

Mrs. Coyne will merit the increase by supervising the proposed city income tax department. The pay boost for Hayes was recommended by the Utilities Commission last June.

A zoning code amendment approved unanimously will allow, with permission of the Zoning Board, limited expansion of non-conforming buildings established in residential areas prior to enactment of the code in November, 1958.

The Zoning Board would set the conditions under which it would hand out the special permits.

The amendment, approved by the Planning Commission, originated in the need of the Salem Label Co. to enlarge its facilities at its location at 838 S. Lundy Ave.

If not permitted to expand, the Council had been informed by company officials, the firm would be forced to move.

The other zoning ordinance approved by Council would require persons building or repairing public structure, to file state-approved plans with the zoning officer.

Council adjourned after setting a meeting Dec. 31 at 5:15 p.m. during which the 1960-61 members will be sworn into office.

Murder Victim's Wife Queried

Background of Dead Man Also Probed

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Investigation of the sniper slaying of Charles R. Clark got back today to such basic matters as motive and the possibility of accident.

But the love affairs of the victim's beautiful brunette wife, on which police have concentrated since the Christmas Eve crime, still are due for much probing.

Mrs. Lois Clark, 30, mother of four, may possibly know "why the shot was fired, or give some lead as to who did fire the shot," Edward R. Ostrander, Lake County prosecutor, said.

He made the statement Tuesday after Mrs. Clark had been questioned more than two hours by Sheriff William B. Evans and two assistant prosecutors.

Ostrander declined to give details, but said Mrs. Clark was "most helpful in giving information which may be pertinent."

He said she would be questioned further today, possibly with polygraph testing. She agreed last week to take such tests.

At the same time, Ostrander made a public plea for information about the slain man, a 35-year-old electrical engineer with a five-figure income. He raised the possibility Clark may have incurred enmity of someone who did not even know Mrs. Clark.

"We all know Clark has been represented as a model husband, a Boy Scout leader, a pillar of his church and a competent and well-liked business man," Ostrander explained.

"But actually we know nothing of his travels, of his relations at the Reliance Electric & Engineering Co. where he was employed, or of his associates."

Chances appeared slim that the bullet which crashed through the kitchen window of the Clark home in nearby Mentor and struck Clark on the temple was fired by accident.

Helping rule out the accident theory was the questioning of Carol Clark, 12, by Asst. Prosecutor John F. Clair Jr. The victim's oldest daughter said she was trying to open a can of pumpkin when her father came to help her. She estimated he was at the window only about four seconds when the shot was fired.

This would make it appear, Ostrander said, that the sniper was in position and waiting in the darkness outside for his target to be framed in the lighted window. Police have decided the shot was fired from near a tree about 40 feet from the window.

Salineville Man Held For Forgery

LISBON — Daniel Morgan, 22, of Salineville Rd. pleaded guilty on Tuesday afternoon to a charge of forgery with intent to defraud when given a hearing before County Judge James L. MacDonald. Bond was set at $1,000.

Morgan was charged with issuing a check to himself for $37.84 on the Potters Bank and Trust at Wellsville Dec. 22 and signed it Mrs. J. C. Jenkins, and cashing it at the Julius Goetz and Co. store, 460 Main St., Wellsville.

Wellsville Police Chief John Hephner filed the charges against Morgan.

Sen. Humphrey Enters Race For President

Minnesota Aspirant Is First Democrat to Announce Officially

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) today plunged officially into the race for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination.

Humphrey announced at a news conference that his name will be entered in presidential primaries in Wisconsin, the District of Columbia, Oregon and South Dakota.

Humphrey indicated he will campaign primarily on foreign policy and national security issues. He aimed immediate barbs at the Eisenhower administration.

"We can no longer tolerate a government that reacts instead of taking the initiative," he said in a statement handed to reporters.

"We cannot afford to have an administration that spends all of its time repairing damage instead of building solid, long term programs."

Humphrey became the first among the Democrats most prominently mentioned as presidential possibilities to get officially into the race.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) returns Saturday from a Jamaican vacation and is expected to confirm then that he also seeks the prize.

These early bird announcements seem unlikely to be matched by a trio of other major potential contenders for the nomination.

To Play It Cozy

Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the party's top nominee, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) are expected to continue to play it cozy.

Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California narrowed the field with an announcement Tuesday he will take no active part toward becoming the serious candidate he had come to be regarded in some quarters.

But Brown held firmly to his resolve to keep other aspirants out of the California primaries. He intends to be his state's favorite son candidate and to head the state's 81-vote delegation to the Democratic national convention. He said he hasn't made up his mind whom he will support. He also said he won't take second place.

Humphrey said in an interview he doesn't think Brown's announcement changes the situation with regard to the coveted California bloc. This view was echoed by a Kennedy spokesman.

"I think all of the Democratic hopefuls intend to respect the governor's desire to be a favorite son," Humphrey said. "If one should go in against him, of course, it would become a free-for-all."

Humphrey is understood to have decided that he will not contest Kennedy in the March 8 New Hampshire primary. He has made it clear, however, that he would welcome a battle with the Massachusetts senator in the April 5 Wisconsin primary.

That single primary could be decisive in Humphrey's case. If he can't beat Kennedy in Wisconsin, Humphrey is likely to drop out and hurry back to Minnesota to attend the job of getting himself renominated and re-elected to the Senate.

Coffee to be Served On Pike on Holiday

CLEVELAND (AP)—In the interest of safety, free coffee will be served on the Ohio Turnpike from 11 p.m. New Year's Eve until 6 a.m. the next morning.

The Turnpike Commission said occupants of vehicles entering the turnpike will be handed cards entitling them to one free cup of coffee each. The coffee is being supplied by concessionaires who operate restaurants at the 16 service plazas on the turnpike.

Nuclear Test Crisis Threatens

Centers Around Inspection System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain are facing a new crisis in their negotiations with the Soviet Union for an enforceable treaty outlawing test explosions of nuclear weapons.

It may reach a head soon after the three-power talks resume Jan. 12 in Geneva. It is not the first time a deadlock has threatened.

The crisis centers around development of an international inspection system strong enough to discourage cheating with sneak explosions.

Unless the Soviet Union modifies its opposition to strengthening the system already proposed, President Eisenhower indicates he may order a resumption of underground test explosions in the United States.

Before such a step would be taken, officials said, the United States would very likely change its strategy in the negotiations at Geneva to seek a limited rather than a comprehensive test ban. A limited ban would apply only to explosions in the air or in the water. They could be policed more easily than underground explosions.

A toughening U.S. policy with respect to the negotiations was disclosed Tuesday when Eisenhower substituted a day-to-day voluntary suspension of nuclear weapons tests for the present fixed-term moratorium which expires Dec. 31.

The United States, he said at Augusta, Ga., will consider itself free to resume nuclear weapon testing but "we shall not resume... without announcing our intentions in advance."

In effect Eisenhower put the world and particularly Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on notice that without substantial progress toward agreement at Geneva the U.S. test suspension policy may be revoked some time next year.

The decision drew a mixed response.

New Castle Man Charged In Killing

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—Nunzio Casaccia, 43, of New Castle, was charged with murder today in the shooting of a divorced mother of three children.

Police Sgt. William Carbone said Casaccia admitted shooting Mrs. Caroline Retort, 22, also of New Castle, Tuesday night.

Mrs. Retort was shot five times with a .32 caliber revolver during a quarrel at Casaccia's home, police said. Her body was found in the living room.

Police said Casaccia fled to Youngstown, Ohio, and from there to nearby North Lima, Ohio, where he turned himself into a constable. He waived extradition and was returned to New Castle.

Clauson, a one time chiropractor and native of Mitchell, Iowa, was the first Maine governor to die in office for almost 40 years.

Dr. Joseph R. Crawford said the cause of death was undetermined but "in all likelihood it was heart or a cerebral hemorrhage."

The governor was dead when Dr. Crawford arrived at Blaine House, the executive mansion at 2:35 a.m.

The only member of the family present was Mrs. Clauson, the former Ellen Kelleher of Waterville.

The governor also leaves a son, Corneus K., of Waterville, and a daughter, Mrs. William Shasse of Brunswick.

Clauson came to Maine as a young chiropractor. He settled in Waterville where he served as city treasurer in 1930 and mayor in 1936 and 1937.

In recent years he had been in the oil distribution business there. Active in Democratic party affairs for more than 30 years, he was U.S. collector of internal revenue for Maine from 1934 to 1933.

A World War I veteran, he was a member of the American Legion. He also was a Mason and a Shriner. At one time he was president of the Maine Assn. of Chiropractors.

Sheriff Files For Re-election

Kolozsi To Seek Coroner Job Again

Sheriff Russell VanFossan and Dr. William A. Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner, filed Tuesday afternoon with the county election board to seek renomination in the May primaries.

Sheriff VanFossan, a Republican, is rounding out his first four-year term. Dr. Kolozsi, a Salem resident, is seeking a full term, as he is now serving in the unexpired tenure of the late Ernest Sturgis of East Liverpool.

Dr. Kolozsi's candidacy had been announced several weeks ago, but yesterday's filing was the first real indication that the sheriff would seek a new term. He was elected to succeed Sheriff Howard J. Clark who did not run for a new term four years ago.

VanFossan served eight years as a chief deputy before winning the sheriff's post. A Marine Corps veteran of World War II, he saw action in the South Pacific.

Married, the sheriff resides at 330 E. Main St., East Palestine. He was employed by the W. S. George Pottery Co. before becoming a deputy.

Sheriff VanFossan organized and now heads the county police chiefs and sheriff's association. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Eagles Lodge, American Legion and the VFW at East Palestine, the Salem Elks Lodge and the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge in Salem. He is also a member of the East Palestine Methodist Church.

Congress to Open Space, Missile Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—A critical inquiry into this nation's space, missile and defense program by Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) appeared certain today.

Top staffers of the Senate Space Committee and the Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee already are hard at work on details of an investigation expected to get under way soon after Congress assembles next Wednesday.

Johnson, chairman of both key groups, has spearheaded several attention-getting investigations at the start of congressional sessions the past two years.

Delays Final Balloting for 30-Day Period

Civic Groups to Form Committee to Aid In Financial Problem

Salem City Council Tuesday night deferred action on the controversial income tax ordinance for 30 days.

Final balloting on the measure was delayed, Finance Committee Chairman Fred Koenreich (D) said to permit formation of a civic committee to work with Council on the city's financial problems, in accordance with a request made by organizations at the public hearing on the tax last Wednesday at the Memorial Building.

"Council will welcome any help that any organization wants to give us on this or any other matter," Koenreich said. "I hope that if this committee is formulated and functions, it will continue to work with us," he added.

The ordinance calling for an income tax of six tenths of one per cent was up for final passage last night, having had two prior readings.

Reciprocal Agreement

Under terms of the measure, which would have gone into effect Feb. 1 had it been approved, the tax would be levied on everyone employed here or living here and working elsewhere, with the exception of those coming under the ordinance's escape clause which guards against double taxation by granting reciprocity to other communities that have income taxes.

The tax would amount to 60 cents on one hundred dollars, and would be in effect one year. Its annual yield would be about $180,000.

The proposal has been endorsed by the Salem Area Industrial Development Corp., the Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturers Assn.

Committees Are Named by Council Head

Michael Schuller (R), who will replace Curtis H. Vaughan as president of Council Jan. 1, revealed his appointments as members of the standing committees of Council at that organization's meeting Tuesday night.

Attending as a spectator, Schuller distributed to the councilmen, all of whom will return next year with the exception of R.M. Linder (R), mimeographed forms containing the committee names.

No changes in committee membership have been made outside of substituting the name of Albert Lesch, First Ward Democrat, in place of Linder whom he defeated for re-election.

The committees are as follows, with the chairman listed first in each instance:

Appropriation and finance — Fred Koenreich (Council-at-Large-D), Donald C. Cannon (Second Ward-R), and Carl C. Abe (Council-at-Large-R).

Sewers and sewage disposal — Ralph Zimmerman (Fourth Ward-R), Harold J. Astry (Third Ward-D) and Lesch.

Water and water works — Astry, Arthur L. Hanna (Council-at-Large-R) and Koenreich.

Traffic and safety — Zimmerman, Lesch and Koenreich.

Streets, alleys and sidewalks — Hanna, Astry and Koenreich.

Street lighting — Cannon, Zimmerman and Hanna.

Parks and playgrounds — Abe, Cannon and Zimmerman.

Forfeits Pay for 360 Days' Sick Leave

E. Palestine Carrier Retires After 41 Years of Service

EAST PALESTINE — Clifton Harris, 64, has retired after 41 years' service as a rural mail carrier. Postmaster J. H. Andrus announced.

Harris, who was never late for work and was not involved in a single accident during that period, voluntarily forfeited his salary for 360 days' sick leave which he accumulated during that period, the postmaster said.

The retired carrier has received a 29-year pin from the National Safety Council — marking that many years of driving without a mishap. The period is the longest covered by the council.

He also is the recipient of a certificate of merit from Postmaster General Arthur B. Summerfield and a citation from the regional office.

Harris began his tenure with the department during the horse and buggy days. During the early years, he recalls washouts were one of the principal troubles encountered by rural carriers in the spring months.

A year around danger was cave-ins which often occurred where roads crossed over abandoned coal mines.

Harris, prior to his retirement, was servicing Route 2, a 30-mile route covering the Negley-Peace Valley Road, the State Line Road and the East Palestine-New Waterford back road.

A life-long resident of Unity Twp. Harris is married to the former Twilla Ault. He lives on a farm on the back road to Unity, a mile north of East Palestine.

Although the farm is the scene of extensive strip mine operations, he intends to keep farming a portion of it.

Part of Harris' route is being absorbed into Route 1, which is serviced by Chester Hall. Hall recently was awarded an 11-year pin from the National Safety Council.

Crusader for Negro Rights To Address 3,600 Students

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—About 3,600 Christian students from 100 countries waited today to hear the Rev. Martin Luther King, Montgomery, Ala., Baptist pastor and crusader for Negro rights.

Interest in the six-day, 18th Ecumenical Student Conference increased noticeably on the eve of King's appearance.

In a forum Tuesday night on racial tensions, the Rev. Dr. H. Ogden Jr. provided a dramatic setting for King as he told delegates of his experiences in the initial school integration crisis at Little Rock, Ark.

With three other white ministers and a Negro clergyman, Ogden led nine Negro children through a mob in front of Central High School.

"I saw the National Guard with their guns," he said. "I saw that demonstrating mob and its hate-filled faces—all to keep nine Negro young people out of a school with 2,000 youngsters. I knew this was where segregation led. I had to make a decision, a choice between right and wrong. For me there could be no answer but integration."

The Rev. Mr. Ogden said he was forced to give up his Little Rock church. He is now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Rome, Ohio.

It was the consensus of students at a similar forum on Communism that the Little Rock situation was detrimental to the United States in its conflict with Communism. The students agreed that Little Rock demonstrated that the U.S. does not offer relief from discrimination.

The conference, sponsored by the interdenominational National Student Christian Federation, concludes Sunday.

Bola Ige, a Nigerian attorney, Tuesday envisioned an Africa free of external influences within a decade.

Ige said that by 1963 the Belgian Congo would gain its independence and colonialism in Africa would be gone by 1970.

He said there is no place on the African continent for either western-type capitalism or eastern-type communism and that Africans are not afraid of either of the two because they have seen their dangers.

Ige criticized Dr. Albert Schweitzer, the Nobel Prize winner who spent 40 years in the Belgian Congo.

"I do not respect Schweitzer as a Christian; only as a humanitarian," the Nigerian attorney said. "In all his years in Africa he never troubled himself to learn the language. Never once did he employ an African doctor to serve on his staff. Although he is regarded as the epitome of Christianity by Africans, I can only denounce him. The Christian missionaries who came to this continent did much more wonderful work but they were unknown."

Truth is Really Strange, Man---

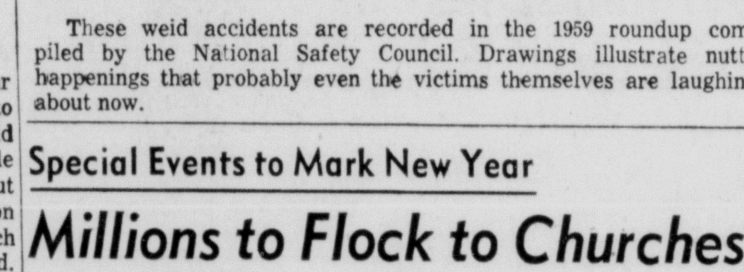

Winner of the most stuck-up driver award goes to Leo Beasley, a paperhanger. He was glued to his seat in Omaha when a five-gallon can of quick-dry paste upset. To get loose he had to slide out of his pants.

What's in a name? In South Plainfield, N.J., a 6-year-old boy fell during an Easter egg hunt, breaking his wrist. Carried to a nearby hospital, his name was entered on the admission roster: "Jack Rabbit."

Proud of her new dishwasher, Mrs. Hal Kent, of Des Moines, Iowa, turned the dial to the appropriate notch. She stopped the machine hastily when she heard the cries of her cat inside, and saved it clean but unhurt.

British and proper, Miss June Sandy, 17, was riding her bicycle down the main street in Whitstable, England, when a passing motor scooter brushed against her, carrying Miss Sandy's dress down the road.

Commander of British forces in the Middle East, Air Marshal William MacDonald lined up runners in a cross-country meet in Cyprus. "On your mark; get set . . ." he called — and shot himself in the foot with his gun.

These weird accidents are recorded in the 1959 roundup compiled by the National Safety Council. Drawings illustrate nutty happenings that probably even the victims themselves are laughing about now.

Special Events to Mark New Year

Millions to Flock to Churches, Night Clubs To Usher In '60

By The Associated Press

The old passes away, and the new begins Thursday midnight, and across the land, people will greet the hour in quiet or clamor.

There will be parties and prayers, parades and paper hats, carnivals and contemplation. There will be remembering and hoping.

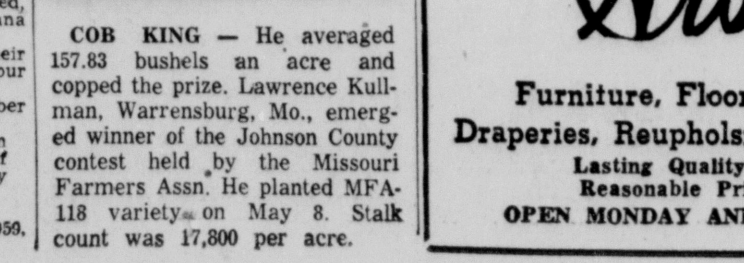

There will be crowds and people alone. There will be spending, tipping, and the songs of choirs.

Millions of men and women will take part in services in city cathedrals and village chapels, pondering the past and regarding the New Year's promise.

Other millions will flock to hotels and night clubs, to reinforce their cheer with numbers, comedians, noise and dancing girls. More revelers will whoop it up on the streets.

In many places, special events and customs mark the New Year. Cherryville, N.C., holds its traditional "crying in" to usher in 1960, beginning at 12:01 a.m.

From then until the following nightfall, two criers, each accompanied by a squad of musketeers,

Then comes a volley from the ancient muskets. The custom, apparently originated by early German settlers, has been observed for 150 years.

Out West, the AdAman Club, composed of prominent Colorado residents, stages its annual hike to the snowcapped summit of Pike's Peak where fireworks are set off at midnight. At Jackson, Wyo., there is a torchlight ski parade down King Mountain.

In Miami, Fla., a pre-Orange Bowl game parade is held New Year's Eve. Dallas, Tex., holds the national rodeo finals.

"It will be a more festive New Year's than the last one," was the consensus of San Francisco hotels and night spot operators, who reported heavy bookings, including many out-of-town parties.

Prices appeared little changed from last year, averaging around $15 per person for dinner, dancing entertainment and favors. Some spots went as low as $6, a few as high as $40. In most cases, drinks were extra, except for maybe one round of champagne.

A new motel on the edge of Boston, which set a $15 tab for the usual food and fun, also added a new touch: It urged patrons to remain overnight for $16 a couple extra, with morning-after breakfast in bed.

New York's Waldorf-Astoria Empire Room put the rate for evening at $37.50, including tax. The Copacabana offered its revue, dancing and dinner at $15, $20, or $25, depending on table location.

Seattle's biggest private club offered drinks, floor show, dancing and early-morning breakfast of ham and eggs at $6 per person. Omaha's Town House put its evening of food and merry making at $15 a head.

Soils, Crops Topics Slated At Institute

Columbiana and Mahoning county farmers will have an opportunity to acquire up-to-date information on forage production methods at the Columbiana-Mahoning Soils and Crops Institute to be held on Wednesday, Jan. 6, at the Masonic Temple from 10 a.m. to 3:15 p.m., according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Following is the scheduled program:

10 a.m., film, "Harvesting Quality Hay"; 10:30 a.m., "Growing and Harvesting Forage Crops," George Gist, extension agronomist at Ohio State University; 11:15 a.m., "Forage Machinery, Equipment and Buildings," Kenneth Battles, extension engineer at Ohio State University; 12 noon, lunch.

1 p.m., "Utilization of Roughage," Dan McGrew, extension dairy specialist at Ohio State University; 1:45 p.m., "Forage Dollars and Sense," by Lester Arnold, extension economist at Ohio State University; 2:30 p.m., "My Program of Forage Production," David Kellogg, Ashtabula county farmer.

Robbers Pistol-Whipped Geneva Garage Owner

GENEVA, Ohio (AP)—Robbers pistol-whipped a garage owner at his home north of here Tuesday night and fled with $633 from his wallet and nine guns they grabbed from a gun case. They threw five of the guns in the snow just outside.

William Glasky, 39, who lives on Ohio 534 about 1 1/2 miles north of here, described them as two white men in a 24-40 age range. A third man stayed in a pickup truck parked in his drive, Glasky told police.

The two men who entered his house forced Glasky's wife and four children to stay seated on a couch in the living room during the holdup, he said. When they had taken his money and guns, they pistol-whipped him into near unconsciousness, he reported.

Included in the cash stolen, Glasky said, was a 1903 twenty-dollar gold piece.

3 Admit Burglarizing Home 'For Thrills'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two University of Cincinnati sophomores and a former UC student have admitted breaking into a home here "for thrills," police reported.

Sue Sasser, 20, Anderson, Ind.; Larry Wright, Troy, Ohio, and George Bingham, 24, Cincinnati, go to Police Court today to face charges of burglary of an inhabited dwelling.

Detective Ernest Fulcher said the three were seen running from the house early Tuesday and were arrested after an auto chase.

Fulcher quoted the three as saying they took a trunk from the back yard of the house and also entered the house, believing it was vacant. The trunk was valued at $5.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.

Many Conditions Cause Drowsiness

There are certain people, called "masochists" whose delight it is to endure suffering and pain.

Like the Indian fakir who makes his bed on a mattress of sharpened spikes.

Or the crepe hanger who watches the obituary column so as not to miss a good funeral.

Or the neighbor who does her ironing to the accompaniment of a radio tearjerker.

Or her more fortunate friend who can sit before TV and actually witness the widow's agony as she bundles her fatherless children and prepares to leave the old homestead following foreclosure of the mortgage.

IF YOU'RE curious about masochistic delights and maybe want to see if they'll appeal to you, I've a guaranteed plan for your earnest consideration.

By following quite simple directions, you may waken one morning quite convinced that the Marines, complete with rolling caissons, have established a beachhead in your attic. That your children have installed a bowling alley in your basement. That the sounds of perking coffee and the vacuum cleaner are being put through a public address system.

That your face is being spotlighted by a TV crew, preparatory to the beaming of a nationwide program. And that you, your bed, the Marines, your children and the TV crew have been put aboard a small cruiser that's being tossed in all directions by mountainous waves.

IF YOU RESPOND as you should, you'll have the feeling that power drills are operating on your ear drums. That compressed air is being forced into your skull. That your eyeballs are about to be blown out of their sockets. That cement has been injected into your tongue. That the door-to-door brush salesman has been demonstrating his wares on the lining of your stomach.

If you haven't already guessed my blueprint for masochism, I'll spell it out so there's no margin for error.

Just tie one on New Year's Eve and enjoy the delights of a morning hangover to welcome in Anno Domini 1960.

Charles A. Sneddon

Charles A. Sneddon of 857 N. Ellsworth Ave., a draftsman in the Ohio Fuel Gas Company's Salem division office, has been promoted to St. Clairsville as agent there for Ohio Fuel, it was announced today.

Sneddon, who succeeds F. H. Snodgrass, resigned, has been with the gas company seven years. He started with the company as a construction worker in Salem in 1952, was promoted to utility man a year later, and became a draftsman in 1956.

Born in Salem, Sneddon was graduated from high school in 1952. He is a member of St. Paul Catholic Church. He and his wife, Colette, have three children, Jeanne Marie, 4, Colette Lea, 3, and Charles Jr., 1. The family plans to move to St. Clairsville soon.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

At a moment when we all try to peer into the future, Jimmy Hoffa's vision is good. His insight is better. He has been losing his temper. He doesn't like what he sees. He will be the new decade's first angry man. I guess it is like that when you see things some of us can't.

In his marble mansion in Washington and during the recent Miami Beach sessions of his Teamsters high council, James Hoffa has thundered against his own people. At one point he derided one of his attorneys for three straight and very loud hours.

What enrages Hoffa is the fact that in the next few months the provisional Teamsters president faces not only court proceedings for his ouster from high office but action to remove him from membership in the union itself. The Board of Monitors wants Hoffa out of the union.

Thus if the Monitors win and then call a new Teamsters convention, James R. Hoffa would be able to attend only as a spectator. They may not succeed. But with rip-roaring, desk-pounding acidity Jim Hoffa wants to know why his private bar association can't stop the Monitors from trying. There's a chance the union lawyers might be able to do that after all.

THE SPECIFIC strategem of the monitorial board has never been reported. So here it is.

Within the next few months the court-appointed Monitors will begin presenting some 35 affidavits to Judge F. Dickinson Lettis in an effort to prove that Hoffa has defied two sections of the Federal Court decree which made him provisional president.

One clause is in Section 5 of the document signed by the Teamsters Union and the rank-and-file group which sued the brotherhood.

This section states that all persons handling local union and international funds must treat this money as a bank would a trust—in full fiduciary conduct. No union funds can be used to foster any member's personal business ventures or fortunes.

Section 6 prohibits a member or an official from engaging in any business the interests of which conflict with those of the union.

THE MONITORS charge that Hoffa violated these sections for some 10 months beginning on Jan. 31, 1958.

At that time Jim Hoffa had an option to buy 40 per cent of the now bankrupt Sun Vally dream home project in Florida. This is the development which never developed—though it got a half-a-million dollar loan from a bank in which Hoffa had put half a million dollars of his Detroit Local 299 funds.

It was not until November 1958 that Hoffa dropped his option. About $400,000 of the local's money is still tied up in the bank. Some financial experts doubt the local can recover the cash.

The Monitors Board believes this is a 10-month violation and sufficient for the Federal Court to oust Hoffa first from the international presidency and then from his home local's presidency.

If they can get such federal action, the Monitors will go before the Teamsters' own General Executive Board and ask the union's high command to oust Hoffa from membership. The Monitors will quote that section of the union's constitution which says:

"The basis for charges against members . . . for which he . . . shall stand trial shall consist of . . . violation of the oath of loyalty to the local and international . . . (and) such other acts and conduct which shall be considered inconsistent with the duties, obligations and fealty to a member of a trade union and for violation of sound trade union principles."

OF COURSE, the boys on the Executive Board will no more vote to oust Hoffa than they'd vote to make Bob Kennedy lifetime Teamsters president. So the Monitors will go back to the Federal Court, ask for Hoffa's ouster from membership—and request that the rest of the board—all the vice presidents—be ousted, too.

The board would be charged with refusing to do its duty on the grounds that it had ignored the findings of the Federal Court.

By the time all this happens 1960 may be just a stack of old newspapers. But if the Monitors have their way, the old leadership of the Teamsters will be in that pile.

The Monitors will then ask the court to appoint a receiver over the entire union. This is why Jimmy Hoffa is so enraged. But he should know that anger blurs the vision. And blurry vision is mighty inconvenient.

Navy's First Polaris Sub Commissioned

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—President Eisenhower's special assistant for science and technology today hailed the Navy's first Polaris missile submarine as a "secure deterrent" to war.

D. George B. Kistiakowsky of Harvard praised the nuclear-powered George Washington in the principal speech at commissioning ceremonies for the deadly prowler that can fire from under water.

"Her detection and destruction will be well-nigh impossible, and yet her targets for retaliation will be continually within reach," Kistiakowsky said in prepared remarks.

The 380-foot George Washington is the first of nine sister ships that will be equipped to fire the Polaris intermediate range ballistic missile, which packs an atomic warhead.

The commissioning ceremonies were scheduled at the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics, Corp., builder of the nation's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus.

Kistiakowsky, a member of the team that developed the atomic bomb in World War II, called the George Washington "a breathtaking microcosm of American Technology." He is on leave from his post as professor of chemistry at Harvard.

The George Washington's skipper is Cmdr. James B. Osborn. The sub displaces 5,400 tons. It is equipped with 16 missile launching tubes.

The Polaris is expected to become operational in 1960. It will have an initial range of 1,200 miles.

Boy Loses Eye As Rocket Explodes

CLEVELAND (AP)—Metal fragments from a homemade rocket that exploded in the basement of a Fairview Park home destroyed the right eye of Gary Anderson, 17, and may cost him the sight of his left eye.

Doctors who worked on the youth Tuesday night said it would be several days before they would know whether his left eye could be saved. The youth was in surgery for six hours from midafternoon when the accident occurred.

Gary, a junior at St. Edward High School, was interested in chemistry and rockets and had converted a utility room in the home of his parents into a laboratory.

He was alone when the rocket went off, shattered two basement windows and imbedded pieces of metal in the ceiling.

DETROIT'S DILEMMA — Heavy stockpiling kept the nation's auto makers from hitting the skids for a few months after the steel strike began. First big dip in 1959 in chart above reflects a slow-down due mainly to model turnovers. Second dip, caused by the steel shortage, hit soon after, resulting in extensive layoffs. Resumption of steel set things humming again.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I work days and my husband works nights. My neighbor comes to my house the minute I leave. She has coffee with my husband, brings over hot biscuits, cleans the house and helps get my 12- and 14-year old off to school.

My house is not perfect when I leave but it's in pretty good shape. Kids 12 and 14 don't need to be gotten off to school like babies. I see no reason for this woman to be "so helpful."

The other neighbors have had plenty to say. One went so far as to tell this woman to her face it didn't look very nice. She broke down and cried, said they were evil-minded and stayed away for a week. Now she's back again.

Don't tell me to quit my job and stay home. We need the money. What shall I do? — FRIEND OR FOE.

Dear Friend: Tell your neighbor in plain English (and in your husband's presence) to stay out of your home when you're not there. Explain that you appreciate her willingness to help but you don't enjoy being the target for neighborhood gossip and you can manage without her.

Since you're working to help husband tote the financial barge it wouldn't hurt him to do a few household chores during the day.

A Lie Is A Lie Is A Lie

Dear Ann: I am 16 years old. My name is Robert. My mother keeps telling me I should be honest and not tell lies. I think this is a good way to be.

Once in awhile, when certain people call on the phone and she doesn't want to talk to them, she tells me to say she is not home. This is lying, isn't it? Do you have any advice for me? — ROBERT.

Dear Robert: This is called white lying but it is lying just the same. Tell your mother you don't like to do this and ask her to excuse you, please.

Miffed Mom

Dear Ann: My cousin is being married and they are having a ritzy catered affair in a hotel after the ceremony. Both the bride and groom have large families so there will be about 200 at the dinner.

Our invitation came yesterday and I'm so mad I've already phoned to say my husband and I won't be there. On our invitation was written, "No children, please."

Our sons 11, 9 and 6 are perfect gentlemen. There are only 16 children on our side and I think it's an insult not to include them. My husband says I'm wrong and he's boiling because we'll miss the dinner. I say if our kids aren't welcome we shouldn't go either. Who's right? — MOM.

Dear Mom: You are 100 per cent wrong. No sensible mother should be "mad" because her kids aren't included in every invitation. Children don't belong everywhere.

Youngsters often get bored and restless. Parents must spend their time refereeing or supervising, instead of enjoying themselves. You say there are "only" 16 on your side. If there are are "only" 16 on the other side, this means "only" 32, which is a lot of kids. Catered affairs are priced by the number present, regardless of age.

Call the bride and tell her you've reconsidered.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Coming to Grips With a Problem

City Council's decision Tuesday night to postpone final action on enactment of a city income tax indicates the councilmen's desire to delay what appears to be inevitable.

The tax ordinance, which has had two readings in council and needs only a third for adoption, will be put off for one month while a committee of the Salem civic and industrial organizations sits down with Council to discuss municipal finances and explore other means—if they exist—of keeping city receipts and expenditures in balance.

The Chamber previously endorsed the proposed tax levy of six tenths of one per cent but requested that passage be delayed. The tax plan has not been a popular one; no taxes are, in fact, but Council knows it will go in the red next year if additional revenue is not forthcoming.

Council and the civic groups may—or may not—come up with a solution, but the fact that business leaders are anxious to help city officials is an example of cooperation that should be demonstrated more often in other matters of community-wide interest.

Aside from the city's attempts to secure new industries, the income tax proposal is unquestionably the biggest civic problem in recent years. Not easy to solve, it concerns keeping the city's financial head above waters and paying for current and expanded services needed to make Salem progressive.

Since none of the critics has come forth with any real solution, it will be up to Council and the citizens group to take whatever course is necessary.

No More Differences to Split

All the guesses made about the possible effect of direct negotiations between steel companies and local Steelworkers teams seemed foolish after the first round of meetings on Sunday.

Nothing happened. Nothing happened in the negotiations between the 11 major companies and the union's top bargaining team, either.

Apparently, what seemed to offer some hope of progress because it had not been tried before was in the steel industry's longest deadlock was as useless as all the other moves that seemed to offer hope but didn't. And this apparently was true for the same reason that made the other moves useless.

Deadlocks between employers and unions are customarily broken by a splitting of differences, and in the steel deadlock there are no differences to split.

The steel industry has come a long way from its original position of offering the union a one-year extension of the existing contract. It has increased its offer bit by bit since the deadlock developed, without winning any important concessions from the union negotiators.

The industry even has tapered off from its key demand for reopening the question of local work practices in pursuit of more efficiency. Its modified position is to tackle this problem by studies, continuous negotiation and outside arbitration in the event of disagreements. The effect of this position might well be to neutralize the work rules issue indefinitely.

IT NOW BECOMES necessary to think ahead to the next development, if the deadlock goes to a vote of union members. That is the probability the showdown vote in the middle of January would be in favor of continuing the strike, on the simple and obvious premise that more could be gained that way than by accepting the steel industry offer.

But it is just as simple, just as obvious, that any dictated settlement which had the effect of raising steel industry costs higher than the point which has been determined to be the limit of a non-inflationary settlement would be an increase in the price of steel.

This increase would be justified by the industry on the grounds of interference with its policy of resisting inflation.

BEHIND THE SCENES, throughout the steel negotiations, has been the threat of a government inquiry into "administered prices."

Private enterprise thinks that government is getting ready to put it on the defensive for its pricing policies. The steel industry has beaten the politicians to the punch by announcing its intention to hold the price line if it is permitted to hold the wage line.

It has said in effect that it wants to quit milking the value out of dollars with wage increases that cannot be justified by increased productivity. The rest is up to the Steelworkers Union, the American public and the U.S. government.

This is the next question that is going to be opened for an airing if the deadlock continues.

If the only way to get the union's consent to a new contract is to add to inflation, the steel industry's automatic reaction will be the beginning of another round of dollar-cheapening.

Limited Miracles In Technology

The scientist brothers in Illinois who have devised a mechanical heart that promises to replace broken down or worn out organs to keep human beings alive have wrought a technological wonder. No doubt about it.

When the thing is perfected, it will be installed in chest cavities where ordinary hearts operate. It will be run by an electric motor that can be powered by batteries or plugged into wall outlets.

It is in keeping with the age of wonders we live in. The age began with the Industrial Revolution and the end is not in sight. Each new development of the age — whether it be automatic operation of whole factories or the photographing of the other side of the moon or the substitution of machines for hearts — leaves contemporary witnesses breathless with awe.

And that is the problem.

Ever since the dawn of the Industrial Revolution man's technology has threatened to run away with him. Sociologists for years have been able to make careers out of emphasizing the lag of the human spirit behind the pace of the mechanical invention.

Unfortunately, no scientist has come up with a device that will assure a man of wisdom to keep the upper hand over his machines. No medical scientist has been able to build a substitute organ which guarantees that a life prolonged by technology will be full and useful and happy.

The experts who know how to put artificial satellites into orbit around the earth do not know how to keep the peace on earth, and neither do the governments they work for.

Workers who stand to gain the most from and neither in many cases have the companies they work for.

The man who has an electric motor in his chest will not necessarily have a better life because of it. He will only have a more dependable means of pumping blood through his body.

The trouble is that pushbuttons cannot provide happiness or understanding or wisdom or kindness. Even if they could, these characteristics would probably be artificial and therefore not really meaningful.

Technology is wonderful as far as it goes. Beyond that, man must carry on for himself.

Ohioans With the Know Why

Appointment of the Advisory Committee on Industrial and Economic Development should prove to be a big boon to getting the new Ohio Department of Industrial and Economic Development on its feet and operating effectively.

The reason can be seen in the makeup of the committee. Its members represent not only various geographic sections of the state, but a broad range of economic interests as well.

There are a utility executive, an attorney, a builder, a city official, an industrialist, a restaurateur, a publisher and two labor leaders.

These men are active in their professions, dealing daily with both the routine and the extraordinary facets of economic life. Their duties on the advisory committee will be part-time work designed to give them an official channel through which to communicate their knowledge and their ideas to the department officials whose full-time duties will be the encouragement of Ohio's economic growth.

This is a more dynamic approach to the problem than the state has taken before and symbolizes the grand scope of the new department in contrast to the simple publicity activity which was the primary responsibility of the department's predecessor agencies.

This is not to say the earlier efforts were not valuable. They served their purpose for the times and circumstances in which they operated.

But as Ohio's economic life grows more complex, the magnitude of the job of maintaining its proper development increases. There is nothing static about modern economic conditions, so a dynamic attitude toward capitalizing on them is mandatory.

This is too vast a job for a relatively few government officials working out of offices in Columbus with little direct contact with the business and industrial world aside from occasional promotional meetings or selling excursions.

For the full-time officials to do their best job, they must have the advantage of continual information and advice from people who are in full-time contact with business and industry; who know the down-to-earth problems as well as the dream-world potentials of Ohio's economic life.

This is where the members of the advisory committee fit into the picture. They are men who can provide the link between Ohio's dreams and the reality of achieving those dreams.

There's a Moral Responsibility, Too . . .

Results of Rockefeller Move

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are two clear-cut results from New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's decision to step aside and leave Vice President Richard M. Nixon unopposed for the Republican presidential nomination.

1. The Democrats will be able to start their own campaign much earlier by concentrating their fire on Nixon right from the beginning of 1960.

2. The voters will be able next November to make a lot sharper distinction between Democrats and Republicans.

It's no news to say the Democrats dislike Nixon. He has been around a long time. They have had a lot of experience with him. They particularly dislike him for his campaign tactics in other years.

Some of them have maintained it would be easier to beat Nixon than Rockefeller in the presidential race. By this reasoning, if they opened up on Nixon before the convention, they might have made Rockefeller's nomination easier.

They no longer have that problem. Since Nixon seems to be the sure-shot Republican choice, the Democrats can start blasting him right away.

Since Nixon has been completely identified with the Eisenhower administration, he can ill afford to be critical of it, either before he gets the nomination or afterward.

Rockefeller was critical of the administration a number of times in the past few months while still wondering whether to oppose Nixon. But he could afford to be. He wasn't attached to it.

Nixon—because of the role he played in the administration since 1953—can hardly afford, or so it seems now, to do anything more in the campaign than to promise more of the same.

This may, of course, be sufficient to win if Eisenhower by that time has managed to make the world a little more peaceful and the country is anxious to continue his policies.

Since Nixon appears destined to campaign with a theme song which goes like this—"If you liked Ike, you'll like me, too"—any Democratic fire aimed at Eisenhower's performance must hit Nixon also.

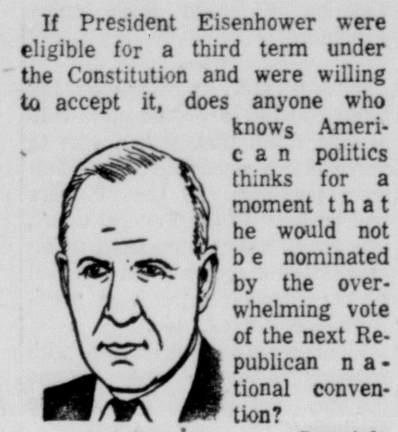

The Democrats, of course, will have to promise to do better and, what is of equal significance to voters trying to make up their minds, do it differently.

Thus they should be able to make a clearer distinction between Nixon and the Democratic candidate than between Rockefeller and the Democrat since Rockefeller, unlike Nixon, could be critical of Eisenhower.

Political Conventions

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Maneuvering Behind The Scenes

If President Eisenhower were eligible for a third term under the Constitution and were willing to accept it, does anyone who knows American politics think for a moment that he would not be nominated by the overwhelming vote of the next Republican national convention?

David Lawrence

Certainly there would be no contest — there rarely is when an incumbent administration has in its ranks someone of stature who is considered politically eligible to head the ticket. Vice President Nixon is an integral part of the Eisenhower administration and can defend its record wholeheartedly.

All the talk emanating from Democrats to the effect that the Republican convention will be controlled because it will have no "contest" and that the nomination of Mr. Nixon has been prearranged "by the bosses" ignores what has happened under somewhat similar circumstances in their own party.

Thus, in 1936 there was no contest made against the renomination of President Franklin D. Roosevelt — nor in 1940 or 1944.

The Democrats in 1944, moreover, as a result of word from the man higher up in the party, ditched Henry Wallace, who had served as vice president for four years. He was certainly entitled to renomination.

In fact, he had the necessary pledges of a majority of the delegates before the convention assembled in Chicago. But the "big boss" of the party said "no," and after some political shenanigans behind the scenes, Mr. Wallace was sidetracked, as also was James F. Byrnes. Then Harry Truman was selected.

THERE IS EVIDENCE that one of the bosses of the Democratic party — Sidney Hillman, the man who controlled the machinery of the labor unions in politics at the time — had more to say about the nomination than did any delegation to the convention.

The famous phrase, "Clear it with Sidney," was Mr. Roosevelt's confidential advice to aspirants for the vice presidency. Certainly the convention delegates had no chance to conduct any real contest that year.

There was some talk in 1948 of withholding from President Truman the Democratic nomination at the Philadelphia convention and, indeed, to accomplish this objective, the name of Gen. Eisenhower was brought forward by many prominent Democrats, including James Roosevelt, a son of FDR and now a congressman from California. But the general made it clear he wouldn't run and President Truman was able — as is the leader of any incumbent administration, as a rule — to head off opposition and prevent any real contest.

For a long time it has been a tradition that the administration in power controls the nomination at the convention which is to choose a successor.

This is true because so many of the officeholders have influence locally with the party. Whoever is in the White House can usually dictate his own renomination or the nomination of someone he likes provided the administration is popular and has made a good record.

THUS, IN 1908, President Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, who was extremely popular, selected for the presidential nomination William Howard Taft, who was secretary of war and really had no background in national politics at all.

Four years later Mr. Roosevelt sought the nomination himself and split the party but the man in the White House got the regular Republican nomination.

Win or lose, the candidate of the party which has been in control of the White House finds himself compelled to stand on the record of the existing administration.

In 1952, when Gov. Adlai Stevenson, of Illinois, was nominated, he was in a quandary for several days after the convention adjourned as to whether he would try to campaign wholeheartedly on the Truman record. He finally decided to do so, and lost.

The voters express their opinions on an incumbent administration, irrespective of the personality of the candidates. In fact, this is going to be the basic issue in the 1960 campaign and that's why the vice president — who has been so much a part of the current administration — is the logical choice of the coming Republican convention.

That's why Gov. Rockefeller came to the conclusion that any vigorous contest for the nomination might split the party and injure its chances to win the election in November 1960.

As for the comment coming from Democratic quarters that Mr. Nixon would be easier to defeat in 1960 than Gov. Rockefeller would have been, this isn't borne out by recent Gallup Polls.

IN "TRIAL HEATS" among voters of all parties in late November, Nixon showed 56 per cent as against Stevenson's 44 per cent, whereas Rockefeller polled 53 per cent as against Stevenson's 47 per cent.

In a similar poll at about the same time, Nixon ran up 53 per cent as against Kennedy's 47 per cent, whereas Rockefeller polled only 37 per cent as against Kennedy's 63 per cent.

So it is hard to see how the Democrats can really believe that Nixon would be easier to beat than Rockefeller except that in politics it is always considered good tactics to boast of victory in advance of the election itself.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

Some years ago, friends started to show me a special kind of postcard highly favored for sending back home from Florida. Scantily garbed bathing beauties were shown in a variety of poses. The interesting thing is this that in all this time the girls and the poses never have been changed. The same models are still being shown, and they must be grandmothers by this time.

In the furor over De Gaulle's policy of French muscle-flexing, my sympathies are with the Frenchman. I doubt, as I suspect he does, that La Belle France could fight her way out of a wet paper sack, but I am all for demanding the respect that is due a country which helped to write the textbook on international power politics.

One of the things I noted in the big football game between the Colts and the Giants was the resolute way the former lined up for each scrimmage, which may or may not have had something to do with the way the game turned out. In this year of televised football, when everybody is an expert, a spectator must be careful what he says, because a real expert might be listening.

I had the impression while helping to address Christmas cards this year that it won't be long until 50 per cent of the people most of us know will be living in Florida and California — perhaps even more than that, considering that the people most of us know move closer to retirement each year.

Much as I regret it, I am unable to find anything to celebrate about the passing of one calendar year and the beginning of another. I enjoy New Year's Eve parties only because I enjoy parties, not because I held any grudge against the old year or any high hopes for the new one.

Few people know that dandelions in this climate frequently bloom in December and January, that grass continues to be green and to grow during the winter, that some vines and shrubs never stop growing and that right now rhubarb, peonies and the buds on lilacs are twittering on the brink of bursting forth, though spring does not come officially until late in March and never actually arrives until late in April.

With misgivings about being misunderstood on this point, I believe it is impossible to have a resolution any more without falling into the hands of Communists, for the same reason it is impossible to have a picnic without flies and ants, and this must be taken into account from now on whenever political conditions become intolerable, as they clearly were in Cuba under Fulgencio Batista.

If anyone makes the mistake of asking me what the most interesting thing was in 1959 I will say unhesitatingly it was the collapse of the myth that television had risen above the mediocrity that plagues other forms of communication. Then came the moment of truth, when Charles Van Doren was revealed to be mortal—and the myth went phhtt.

I am increasingly annoyed by singular verbs with composite nouns, this being one of those traps set for unwary people who, having been told something can be done under certain circumstances, take it upon themselves to do the same thing under all circumstances. Nine times out of 10 the singular verbs hooked up with composite nouns are wrong.

Nothing gives me the willies like the thought of being on a ship that had caught fire at sea, because my fear of fire then would be augmented by my even greater fear of drowning.

There are times in some labor negotiations when some of the hog-wash reminds me strongly of the case of a householder arrested for the crime of resisting a burglar.

Impact of Tragedies

News of accidental death—wherever it occurs—is always tragic, but coming at holiday time it seems doubly so.

Tragedy visited two Salem homes this holiday season and our heartfelt sympathy generates another plea to readers to drive with caution, especially with the long New Year's weekend just ahead. The Columbiana traffic toll of 28 already is six ahead of last year. Don't become No. 29.

Mary Jane Parana Is Bride Of Robert Edward Dennin

Red poinsettias, variegated holly and evergreens banked the candlelit altar in St. Paul Catholic Church for the wedding of Miss Mary Jane Parana and Robert Edward Dennin Saturday morning.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Parana of 1760 Oak St. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. red Dennin of Lake Placid, N.Y. and the late Mr. Dennin.

Vows were exchanged by the couple in a double ring ceremony at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney solemnizing the Mass.

Miss Sara Colman at the organ accompanied Mrs. Gene Hergethrother as she sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother," "Prayer for a Perfect Life," "Panis Angelicus," and "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Parana was gownned in white peau satin. The bodice with bertha collar and the chapel train of the floor length dress, were adorned with re-embroidered pearl studded imported Alencon lace appliques.

A queen's crown of crystal and pearls held her French illusion floor length veil, and she carried a cascade of white poinsettias, holly and white streamers.

Red velvet dresses styled with bateau necklines and deep V-backs were worn by the attendants. The three quarter length sleeves were complemented by short matching velvet mitts, and their red circular veils were attached to bandeaux of variegated holly.

Mrs. Parana created her daughter's bridal gown and the gowns worn by the matron of honor, another daughter, Mrs. Joseph Winkler of Salem, and the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Blender of Salem and Miss Roberta Schreiner of Painesville, both college classmates of the bride.

James Minamy of Salem served as best man, and Joseph Winkler and Howard Coy, both of Salem, ushered.

Mrs. Parana wore a forest green lace and satin sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Dennin appeared in a royal blue brocade satin sheath with matching accessories. White orchid corsages complemented their attire.

Reception Is Held

In the "Carolina plan" meeting, Robert Hum sketched the personal background of Ronald Beckham, and Beckham outlined the career of Hum. Randall Sigle discussed the background of Ed Altomare, and Altomare responded with a review of Sigle's life. John C. T. Elder was program chairman.

"Men Who Make Steel," a color-sound movie produced by the Republic Steel Co., was screened at the Kiwanis Club meeting Monday night at Heck's Restaurant. Harold Armstrong was program chairman. Gayl Gloss, retiring president, presided.

COLUMBIANA CHAPTER, Order of Rainbow for Girls, will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Masonic Hall for election of officers.

Raymond Cole, elementary school principal, has been named to attend a First Regional Instructional Conference of the National Education Association, to be held Jan. 27-30 in Louisville, Ky.

Morning Circle of the Presbyterian Church will convene at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 6 at the church. Hostesses will be Mrs. James Jensen and Mrs. E. A. Parsly. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Ellis Ritchie.

The Columbiana Clippers play their final non-league game of the 1959-60 season tonight, traveling to Canfield for an encounter with the Cardinals. Tri-County play begins Tuesday, Jan. 5, with East Palestine visiting here.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dickinson, both injured seriously last summer in an auto mishap on the east coast, were to leave this week

Damage Estimated In Millions

Thousands Flee As Coastal Flood Smashes New England

persons fled their homes, hundreds were rescued and damage was recorded in the millions from a record ocean tide which gave New England one of its worst coastal floods.

Communities along 30 miles of the Greater Boston shoreline suffered the brunt of the flood devastation as the Atlantic Ocean spurted a stormy anger from Maine to New Jersey Tuesday.

The highest tide in 108 years—14.3 feet—brought ocean water to a depth of seven feet on some streets and into the first floors of many homes.

The flood tides were driven by a northeast storm which battered New England for the second successive day.

The storm dropped up to 16 inches of snow in New England. At least nine deaths were blamed on the storm.

More than 700 families were forced to flee their homes in the town of Hull on Boston's South Shore. Scores of women and children were plucked from first floor windows by rescuers.

Crash-Orphaned Child Is Awarded $40,775

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—Four-year-old Nancy Alexander, who was orphaned by an Ohio Tumpike crash last Aug. 2, was awarded $40,775 Tuesday by Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombly in an insurance claim settlement.

Nancy's father, Louis, 30; her mother, Dorothy, 29, and her two sisters, Lois, 8, and Georgia, 7, all were killed when their car collided with a truck near Ashland, Ohio.

Nancy now lives with an uncle and aunt in Detroit.

William Francis, 13, and his brother, Thomas, 12, who were riding in the Alexander car, were awarded $4,738 and $6,016, respectively, for injuries they suffered.

Baptist Youths Repeat Pageant This Evening

By request, the Baptist youth will give a repeat performance of a three act pageant, "The Cradle," at 7:30 tonight in the First Baptist Church. The Baptist Chorales will present the singing parts.

The pageant cast includes Priscilla Ivan, Jimmy Jo Miller, Judy Durham, Judy Nannah, Meredith Livingston Jr., Kaye McDonald, and James Ivan.

Tax Men To Take Closer Look at Business Expenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — Income tax men are going to take a closer look at entertainment deductions and business expenses claimed by corporations and small businessmen.

Dana Latham, commissioner of internal revenue, said Tuesday more detailed records on such deductions will have to be kept starting Jan. 1.

Latham said tighter reporting is needed because there is a growing tendency by corporations, partnerships and small businesses to claim tax deductions for the personal expenses of officers and employees.

Many taxpayers have complained about such lavish expense accounts, Latham said. He added this could encourage taxpayers to try chiseling if they think others are getting a better break.

The more detailed reporting requirements will not apply to 1959 tax returns filed early next year, but will become effective after Dec. 21 for future returns.

Latham emphasized that individual taxpayers will not be burdened with any new accounting chores and that no one will have to do any retroactive bookkeeping. Detailed accounting will not be required for such small items as tips and taxi fares.

Corporations will have to report the salary, expense allowances and any other compensation paid to each of their 25 highest-paid officers. This also will apply to partnerships.

Individuals owning a business will have to report the salaries, expense accounts and other compensations of the proprietor and his five highest-paid employees—if the employees receive $10,000 or more yearly.

Corporations, partners and individual proprietors will have to indicate whether they claim an expense deduction for such properties as beach resorts or hunting lodges.

4-H Steer Group Elects Salem Man

William Werner of Salem was re-elected chairman of the Columbiana County 4-H steer committee at a meeting Tuesday evening at the Lisbon Grange hall.

Chester Roof of Salem was elected treasurer and Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture, was re-elected secretary. Forty members and parents attended last night's meeting.

Werner and Roof had been re-elected along with Olen Wallace of Homeworth for two-year terms. Members elected for one year were William Skeels of Lisbon RD 4, Ronald Kampfer of Salineville and Neva Kitzmiller of Homeworth.

Paul Mollenkopf of East Palestine RD 1 was appointed to the unexpired term of Emery Weingart of Winona, who resigned.

Richard Linder of Alliance, representing a feed company, spoke on steer feeding and management. A film, "Livestock Loss Prevention," was shown.

The committee will meet next spring to plan for their twilight meeting and go over plans for the 1960 fair.

Tax

ing and heard Koenreich read his prepared statement on the tax. The full text was:

"The Finance Committee would like to report that Council has unanimously agreed to go along with the request made at the public meeting of Dec. 23 by the Chamber of Commerce, Manufacturers Assn. and Area Development Council to delay the final action on the proposed income tax for a period of 30 days.

"They agreed if this was done to appoint a committee consisting of members of various organizations to make a further study of Salem's financial needs and make recommendations regarding an equitable solution.

The Finance Committee has contacted Mr. Walter Null, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and advised him of our agreement to delay action on the proposed legislation and asked him to formulate a committee to be composed of a member or members of the following groups:

Chamber of Commerce, Manufacturers Assn., SAIDC, Retail Merchants Assn., Labor, League of Women Voters, Bar Assn., citizens not attached to any group and the mayor and auditor from the city administration.

To Report Within 30 Days

"This group is to be composed only of residents of the city of Salem and is to work with the Finance Committee of Council. They are to report back to City Council within the next 30 days."

Council, facing a depleted treasury and acutely aware that the city has been operating in the red the past four years, gave first reading to the income tax measure Dec. 8.

The lawmakers decided upon the income tax following a long study as the "best and fairest way" to augment present revenue, Koenreich said.

The ordinance provides that the city may borrow up to 50 per cent of the anticipated income for one year to help finance initial operations of the tax.

The tax would be assessed against all salaries, wages, commissions, and other compensations earned by residents of the city and by non-residents working here; on net profits earned by all businesses, professions or other activities and non-city residents, and on net profits earned by all corporations having an office or place of business in Salem.

Council had proposed that the yield from the tax finance such projects as the storm water sewer expansion, land fill garbage disposal system and traffic and street lighting improvements.

4 In Family Perish In Apartment Fire

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Four members of one family perished and another was burned critically in a fire that swept their first-floor apartment today.

Dead were Mr. and Mrs. Huston C. Parker; Ricky Gene Parker, 2, and Barbara Ruth Parker, 1. Parker was 24; Mrs. Parker was 21. Critically burned was Carvis Parker, 4.

IGNORES TICKET, FINED

Failure to pay a parking ticket fine incurred three months ago cost a Salem man $10.60 Tuesday night, plus $1 for the original violation.

Ernest Eugene Earl, 28, of 875 Jennings Ave., was fined $5 by Mayor Harold Smith after a hearing last night. The other $5.60 was for court costs. Police Chief Martin Lutsch said Earl had been sent several notices since being given the parking ticket Sept. 22.

Matter of Fact

On a clear night only about 6,000 stars can be seen without a telescope. One-fourth of these stars are too far south to be visible in North America. Of the stars that can be seen from any one place on earth, only one-half are visible at one time because the others are below the horizon. Haze near the horizon hides many others. It would probably be impossible to count more than 1,000 stars at one time.

Election Board Group To Attend Convention

The Columbiana County Election Board will send five representatives to the annual convention of the Ohio Association of Election Officials Sunday through Tuesday at Columbus.

They are Atty. James McSweeney of Wellsville, C. L. Stacey and Don R. Gosney, both of Columbiana, T. Emerson Smith of Salem and Frank O'Hanlon of East Liverpool, clerk.

McSweeney and O'Hanlon will make the trip by plane, leaving the greater Pittsburgh Airport Sunday afternoon.

Sec. of State Ted W. Brown Ohio's chief election officer, and his staff will outline plans for conducting the 1960 primary and general elections. Legislative reports, recent court decisions and data on presidential voting are among items on the agenda.

Four Killed As Train Smashes Into Car

ROSCOE, S. D. (AP)—A fast-moving passenger train slammed into a car here early today killing four persons. One was the survivor of a nine-death highway crash on New Year's Day two years ago.

The dead were Elmer Heiser, 30, the driver; and his three passengers, Edwin Kirschenmann, 30; Tommy Sweetland, 13; and Wilbert Beck, 18.

Beck survived a highway crash near Eureka on New Year's Day 1957. The nine persons killed in that crash included six members of his family. Young Sweetland was a stepson of Heiser.

Witnesses said the electric warning signals were in operation as Heiser's car moved over the crossing at low speed about 12:30 a.m. in Roscoe, community of 500 in north-central South Dakota, 42 miles west of Aberdeen. The car was demolished.

January Court Term Will Open Monday

LISBON — The January term of court will officially open at noon Monday.

The County Bar Association is slated for a noon luncheon at the First Presbyterian Church, followed by a meeting in court room No. 1 with Atty. Don Shay of East Liverpool, president, who will preside over the business meeting.

The grand jury will be selected Tuesday morning from 50 county residents slated to report at 9 a.m. The county jail will be inspected by the 15-member panel following the swearing-in. The jury will return at 1 p.m. to begin hearing cases.

A total of 21 cases has been filed so far for consideration by the jury panel, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said.

Homer Laughlin Co. Official Steps Down

Joseph M. Wells will step down Friday as active, overall head of the Homer Laughlin China Co. of Newel, W. Va., after 29 years' service.

He will be succeeded by his son, Joseph Wells Jr.

In a series of personnel changes made Tuesday at a meeting of the board of directors, the elder Wells was elevated to chairman of the board and his son was named executive vice president and secretary and designated to perform the duties of general manager.

M. L. Aaron of Pittsburgh will continue as president and will become treasurer.

When the younger Wells becomes active director of the largest dinner plant in the district—perhaps in the world—he will be the third generation of his family to fill the post. For many years the plant was headed by his grandfather, the late W. E. Wells.

Scholarship Tests Not Scheduled In Lisbon

LISBON — For the first time in many years area seniors will not take scholarship tests in Lisbon, according to County School Supt. James L. McBride.

Only three schools have less than 20 seniors taking the test and they will go to other schools, Leetonia and Fairfield — Waterford seniors will go to Beaver Local and Salineville will go to United Local.

The tests will be given at all schools with 20 or more students Jan. 14-15, according to present plans.

Lisbon seniors will continue to take the test here.

Three Truck Drivers Fined For Overloads

Three out-of-town truck drivers were fined a total of $122 for overload during the last two days in Mayor Harold Smith's court.

Fined were Gary H. Watson, 24, of Beaver Falls, Pa., $72; Dailey Edward Bratton, 42, of Louisville, $25; and Edward S. Bezilla, 46, of Youngstown, $25.

Cuban Police Hold 9 for Conspiracy

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban authorities are reported holding nine men, including two North Americans, picked up after they landed in three Venezuelan planes at the provincial capital of Camaguey.

The Havana radio station VOZ said the nine were rounded up on suspicion of conspiracy against Fidel Castro's regime. The report said the planes belonged to a Venezuelan airline and four of the men were Venezuelans.

Military police headquarters in Camaguey confirmed that several airmen were being held for questioning but would give no details.

The broadcast said both North Americans and five of the other men gave Miami addresses.

Cupboard Overturns, Fracturing Boy's Leg

Carl Mumpire, two and one half year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mumpire of Columbiana, is reported to be in good condition today in Salem City Hospital, where he was admitted Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. for treatment of a fractured right leg.

The mishap occurred in the Mumpire home when a cupboard on which the lad was climbing overturned.

Two Fined In Lisbon

LISBON — Clarence E. Wagman, 19, of Kensington RD 1, was fined $50 and costs ($40 fine suspended) Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald for driving without a valid driver's license.

He was also fined $5 and costs (fine suspended) for driving left of center.

Archie Citino, 45, of 334 S. Lincoln Ave., Salem, was fined $2 and costs for speeding. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Two Die In Crash

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A man and a woman were killed today in a collision of their automobiles on an icy bridge on U.S. 127 a mile north of here.

The dead were identified as Mrs. Arva Charlene Washington, 25, of nearby Collinsville, and Samuel Lynch, 57, of Hamilton.

Lisbon Social Notes

Lisbon Bethel 48 of Job's Daughters held installation Monday evening in the Masonic Temple. Approximately 130 persons attended. Visitors included Joan Gilmore, Barbara Sneddon, Elizabeth Lowe, Genevieve Hoffman and William Lowe, all of East Liverpool, and Guardian of Lisbon Bethel Grace Todd, assistant guardian Ray Beers and Worshipful Master of Lisbon Lodge, F&AM, George Serago.

A ceremony, "The Golden," was performed by Carole Mitchell, honor queen-elect and her new officers. Installing officers were Sandra Pike, Helen Beers, Elizabeth Duke, Ruth Ann Gerrard, all past officers, and Janice Swogger, Kay Duke, Joy Mullins and Vera Ward. Pages were Bonnie Crosser, Marjorie Childs and Lynne Blackburn. As the queen was installed Alice Jane Neiser sang "My Task" accompanied by Mrs. Vernon Duke. Paul E. Mitchell presented his daughter, Carole, with her gavel.

Rev. Thomas Hammerton, minister of First Methodist Church, gave the message on "Truth." Helen Beers presented the Past Honor Queen Sandra Pike with her pin.

Carole Mitchell presented her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Mitchell, her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Mitchell, and sister Patty. A reception followed.

Officers installed for 1960 were: Honor Queen, Carole Mitchell; senior princess, Melinda Calhoun; junior princess, Joyce Boyling; guide, Linda Dickens; marshal, action on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), chairman of the Senate Disarmament subcommittee, sharply disapproved, calling it "nuclear brinkmanship" which might backfire and upset chances for agreement with the Soviet Union.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said nuclear testing would be resumed only if it is necessary for this country's security. He said Eisenhower's stand should be supported.

Food Distribution Dates Announced

LISBON — Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, today announced dates for distribution of surplus food at four county centers in January. The schedule follows:

Tuesday, Jan. 12, Columbiana warehouse, for county welfare, soldiers and sailors and East Palestine relief.

Wednesday, Jan. 13, Salem City Building, county welfare, soldiers and sailors, Salem relief.

Thursday, Jan. 14, Wellsville City Hall, county welfare, soldiers and sailors, Wellsville city relief.

Friday, Jan. 15, East Liverpool central fire station, county relief, soldiers and sailors, East Liverpool relief.

Distribution hours at all four points will be 9 a.m. to noon, Bycroft said.

LEETONIA — "Your Schools — and the School Board" will be the theme used when the Leetonia School District Parent-Teacher Association holds its monthly meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the Orchard Hill School.

A panel consisting of the school board members will discuss the board duties and functions pertaining to the schools.

Mrs. Robert Snyder and committee will have charge of the refreshments.

The executive committee will meet at the school Monday evening at 7, one hour prior to the regular meeting.

METHODIST YOUTH Fellowship of the Methodist Church will hold a watch service at the church on Thursday night at 11 p.m. Members of the MYF will take part and the public is invited. The regular Thursday evening meeting has been canceled.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Archer and family of Gary, Ind., spent the Christmas weekend with his mother, Mrs. Helen Archer.

The Methodist Youth Choir will not practice this week. The next regular practice will be Thursday, Jan. 7.

More than 42 were in attendance when the Unity Class of the Methodist Church entertained their families with a coverish dinner Monday evening in the social room of the church. A shower was held for the new kitchen.

One hundred dollars was presented by the class to the building fund. Plans were made to serve the Kiwanis Club in January.

Election of officers will be held at the January meeting.

TO SEEK NOMINATION
CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Reuben Z. Wise Jr., chief deputy of Stark County Probate Court, will seek the Republican nomination to succeed his father who is retiring after 20 years as probate judge. Judge Wise was chief deputy of the Probate Court here for 16 years before his election as judge. His son has been chief deputy since 1950.

CROCUSES IN BLOOM
Mrs. Rolin Herron of Fair Ave. reported that crocus plants in their yard are sprouting now, about three months earlier than usual.

Lukanus-Stewart Nuptials Are Held At St. Paul Church

California is the honeymoon destination of Fred Stewart and his bride, the former Miss Mary Lukanus. Marriage vows were pledged by the couple Saturday at 11:30 a.m. in a double ring ceremony in St. Paul Catholic Church. The Rev. Fr. J. Richard Gaffney officiated.

Red poinsettias were used in the church decorations, and Mrs. Gene Hergenrother sang "Perfect Life Through the Years" and "Ave Maria." Miss Sara Colman presided at the organ.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lukanus of Prospect St., and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Stewart of RD 3, Salem.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of mirror mist taffeta fashioned with a scoop neckline accented with Alencon lace sprinkled with iridescent sequins. The bouffant skirt was enhanced by Alencon lace appliques adorned with sequins. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a jeweled queen's crown, and she carried an orchid cascade bouquet.

Engagement Announced

Miss Rita Mae McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. McArthur of 769 E. 5th St. announce the engagement of their daughter, Rita Mae, to Cadet Richard M. Coppock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Coppock of 912 N. Lincoln Ave.

Miss McArthur is a graduate of Salem High School, Class of 1957 and is now in X-ray training at Aultman Hospital in Canton.

Her fiancé, a graduate of Salem High School, Class of 1956, is a junior at the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado Springs, Colo.

No date has been set for the wedding.

phia was her sister's matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. William Edgerton and Miss Miriam Smith. All wore red velvet dresses with white fur head bands and white fur muffs trimmed with red poinsettias.

Henry Maxim of Los Angeles, Calif., was best man. Ted Campbell of Philadelphia and Tom Allesi of Norfolk, Va., ushered.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with light blue accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Stewart's brocade dress of green and brown worn with beige accessories was complemented by a corsage of yellow carnations.

The reception was held at the United Steel Workers Hall. The buffet refreshment table was centered with a four-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom figurine and encircled by pine decorated with Christmas ornaments. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the cake.

Miss Doris McNamee, Miss Beverly Mercer and Mrs. Charlene Jackson served.

Miss Mary Leone registered the 125 guests from Columbiana, Winona, Lisbon, Texas, Salem and Philadelphia, Pa.

The bride, who was graduated from Salem High School, Class of 1957, was employed by the Farmer's National Bank as a bookkeeper. Her husband, also a 1957 graduate of Salem High School, enlisted in the Navy and is now attending Army Language School in Monterey, Calif.

For her going away outfit, the new Mrs. Stewart chose a light blue wool dress and jacket and wore an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at 383 Larkin St., Monterey, Calif.

Gifts were presented to the attendants at a party in the Lukanus home following rehearsal Wednesday night.

California, West Virginia To Meet In NCAA Title Game

Both Defeat Foes Tuesday

Cincinnati Faces Iowa In ECAC Event

By The Associated Press
Unbeaten California and West Virginia, just a point apart in a 1-2 finish for the 1959 NCAA championship, stage a rematch in the top game of the college basketball season tonight on a schedule heavy with standout showdowns for tournament titles.

California (8-0), ranked No. 3 behind Cincinnati and West Virginia in The Associated Press poll, extended a two-year streak to 24 but barely made it to the title game in the Los Angeles Classic. The Golden Bears trailed by six with 88 seconds left in regulation play, but came off with 65-61 overtime victory against Southern California Tuesday night.

West Virginia (10-0), again whipped along by All-America Jerry West, made it with an 87-73 victory over UCLA.

In other championship games tonight, top-ranked Cincinnati (8-0) and All-America Oscar Robertson play Iowa (8-1) in the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden, and North Carolina (5-2) meets Wake Forest (6-2) in the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N.C.

Darrall Imhoff, whose tip-in with 17 seconds left lifted California to a 71-70 victory over West Virginia for the NCAA crown last March, scored a pair of field goals that gave the Bears the lead for good against Southern Cal.

West, top player of the NCAA tournament, scored 30 points for West Virginia, hitting 11 of 19 from the field.

In title games Tuesday night, Indiana took the Bluegrass crown by beating host Louisville 90-71 with 6-10 Walt Bellamy scoring 24; Oregon State beat Oregon 60-56 in the Far West Tourney at Corvallis, Ore.; Detroit won the Motor City championship with a 92-72 decision over Western Michigan and Miami defeated Xavier (Ohio) 87-69 in the Hurricane Classic at Miami Beach.

While Cincinnati and Iowa, beaten only by Colorado, had a day off in the ECAC, Wake Forest overhauled an eight-point Dayton lead and beat the Flyers 61-50 before North Carolina routed Duke 61-50 in the Dixie.

Soph Bill Packer, who scored 19, and 6-6 Dave Budd, who sank 16, brought Wake Forest a 43-43 tie with 8½ minutes left. Packer's basket put the Deacons ahead to stay at 48-47. North Carolina breezed against Duke, the club that spilled Utah from the unbeaten list in the first round. York Larese led scoring with 37 points, canning 21 of 21 foul shots. Utah (9-1), ranked No. 4, beat Minnesota 75-72 in a consolation game.

Unbeaten Texas A & M (7-0), the defending champ, rolled past Texas 84-74 into tonight's Southwest Conference title game at Houston against Southern Methodist (7-2). The Mustangs, spurred by 6-7 Steve Strange's 20-point job, broke loose in the second half for a 67-56 victory over Arkansas.

It's Kansas (7-2) and Iowa State (6-2) for the Big Eight crown at Kansas City. The Jayhawks made it with a 55-54 victory over Oklahoma. Iowa State whipped cold-shooting Colorado 55-41 after leading by one at the half.

Defending champion Oklahoma City (8-2), beat Bowling Green 80-78 in overtime for tonight's title game berth against Utah (9-2), a 75-68 winner over Wichita.

Western Kentucky's full-court press beat Mississippi State 61-50 for Coach Ed Diddle's 699th victory and a Sugar Bowl title date with Tulane, which beat Virginia Tec 62-57, at New Orleans. The Gator Bowl title scrap at Jacksonville, Fla., is between Georgia, which upset defending champ Louisiana State 79-67, and Florida State, which beat Jacksonville 86-69.

Colts Will Reap Victory Harvest

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the Baltimore Colts, said Tuesday night he plans to continue his practice of post-season salary adjustment for players.

The National Football League rules forbid player bonuses, so the Colt management has made a habit of rewarding its men with "salary adjustments."

Rosenbloom said when he took over the Colts reins in 1953 that he expected to share the wealth with the players either by bonuses or year-end adjustments in contracts.

The owner said he has already discussed this year's adjustments with the players, but he did not reveal any figures.

British Champ Favored Over Holly Mims

CHICAGO (AP)—Nigerian Dick Tiger, British Empire middleweight champion, is a 2-1 favorite tonight to defeat veteran Holly Mims.

The 10 rounder in Chicago Stadium will be televised (ABC, 10 p.m. EST) with scoring under the five point must system.

Tiger, a durable scrapper with a good left, will be making his second Chicago Stadium TV appearance. He defeated Joey Giardello in the same ring on Sept. 30 then lost to him in a Cleveland rematch Nov. 4.

Tiger's record is 35 victories, including 10 knockouts, 9 losses and 2 draws. He is ranked sixth on the National Boxing Assn. middleweight ladder and ninth by Ring Magazine.

Mims, Washington, D.C. veteran who is nearing 31, has been dropped from NBA ratings, after two straight defeats but is listed eighth by Ring. Henry Hank outpointed him Oct. 12 in New Orleans and Rudell Stutch did the same Nov. 23 there.

Mims, like Tiger, never has been knocked out. He has won 46 bouts, 11 by kayoes, lost 20 and fought 6 draws.

Top Offensive Teams To Meet In Sun Bowl

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Two of the nation's best offensive football teams tangle here Thursday in the 25th Sun Bowl game.

They are New Mexico State, the country's third best total offense club, and North Texas State, the No. 4 team in total offense. Kickoff time is 2 p.m. (MST).

North Texas is rated an 8½-point favorite.

New Mexico State (7-3) will feature the nation's leading rusher and scorer in junior halfback Pervis Atkins. Atkins won the national rushing championship with 971 yards on 130 carries—an average of 7.4 yards per try. He scored 17 touchdowns and ran five conversions for 107 points and the national scoring leadership.

Chamberlain, Cousy Named To East Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Old hand Bob Cousy and rookie Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain today were named to the East team for the 10th annual National Basketball Assn. all-star game.

Heading the West team are league scoring leader Jack Twyman of Cincinnati and NBA scoring record-holder Bob Pettit of St. Louis. Five members for each division will be named later.

Chamberlain took the berth occupied last season by Boston ace Bill Russell. The 6-11 Russell likely will be among the later selections.

Twyman's selection left Minneapolis' Elgin Baylor, rookie of the year in 1957-58, off the squad for the present. Baylor has been slowed by a virus condition which cut his weight drastically.

Cousy, the backcourt genius of the champion Boston Celtics, has played in every all-star classic since it was inaugurated. This season's game will be held in Philadelphia, Jan. 22.

Chamberlain, averaging 35.9 a game for Philadelphia's Warriors, is second in the league scoring race with 1,041 points. Twyman has poured in 1,08 points for a 31.1 average while playing six more games.

Pettit established an NBA one-season scoring record last season, collecting 2,105 points for a 29.2 average. The Hawk star along with Cousy gathered the most votes in balloting for the teams by sports writers and sportscasters in league cities.

Chamberlain's teammate, Paul Arizin, also was selected for the East team along with Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and New York's Richie Guerin.

Rounding out the West squad are 7-foot Walt Dukes of Detroit, Piston teammate Gene Shue and Minneapolis' Dick Garmaker.

The additional five men for each team will be picked by NBA coaches.

Washington Favored Over Wisconsin

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A surprising tide of favoritism for the Washington Huskies cropped up today among members of the press corps here to cover the Rose Bowl New Year's Day.

One poll of writers, television and radio men came out with 55 selecting Washington to win to 39 favoring Wisconsin, the Big Ten champion.

A less extensive poll came out 17 - 15 favoring Wisconsin. The Midwest voted solidly for the Badgers, the Northwest unanimously for Washington.

Professional odds still favor Wisconsin by at least six points. One-a-day workouts remained in effect for both squads today while Coach Milt Bruhn continued his barred-gate policy for all West Coast writers.

Big Jim Owens confided that he is feeling somewhat better over the condition of his Huskies and said "by game time I think we will be all right."

Bad weather at home, as well as a missed key workout here, hampered the Huskies' training program.

Bruhn apparently had no such concern.

Canton Squad Nips Louisville

52-51 Loss Third For Leopards

Canton Glenwood defeated the Louisville Leopards Tuesday night 55-51 in an exciting cage tilt in Louisville.

For the Canton team, Ivan was high scorer with 19 markers. McFarren followed with 13.

John Chatelain led the Leopards with 21 points. Larry Buckler also did a nice job, tallying 15.

Buchler missed a chance to send the game into overtime. With only four seconds remaining in the game and Glenwood leading 52-50, Buchler drew a one-and-one foul. He calmly caged the first free throw to make the score 52-51 but the second attempt dropped out.

The Eagles gained a 14-9 edge in the first period. They hiked this margin to 27-21 by half-time.

The Louisville team fired back furiously in the third stanza and were able to tie the score at its conclusion, 36-36.

The fourth period was a grueling battle in which the final victor was never sure until the buzzer. The win for Glenwood avenged a 57-45 defeat handed them by Louisville one week ago in Canton.

The Louisville Reserves soundly defeated the junior Eagles 54-28 in the preliminary game.

This was the Leopards' third defeat in four outings. Louisville will look for that second win on Jan. 5 when they play host to Leetonia.

Canton Glenwood—52

Pittsburgh Fighter Wins 8-Round Decision

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Johnny Morris of Pittsburgh won a unanimous eight-round decision over Bobby Stinitato of Cleveland Tuesday night in the feature middleweight bout at the Palisades in nearby McKeesport. Morris weighed 164, Stinitato 175.

Stinitato was knocked down by a left hook during a furious exchange in the third round.

In a preliminary bout, Joey Stevenson, 172, Steubenville, Ohio, stopped Eddie Ryals, 166, Miami, Fla., in the second round.

Landry Signs To Coach Texas Team

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"The best football coach in the business," Tom Landry, defensive mentor of the New York Giants of the National Football League, Monday became a Texas coach without a squad.

Landry signed with Bedford Wynne and Clint Murchison Jr., who hope to land a National Football League franchise in Dallas, to coach their Dallas Rangers.

A native of Dallas who played with the University of Texas, Landry was also sought by Bud Adams, owner of the Houston Oilers franchise in the newly organized American Football League.

It was Jim Lee Howell, head coach of the Giants, who recently called Landry "the greatest coach in football."

Almost to the moment Landry signed with the Rangers, Adams appeared to consider his chance of bagging Landry a good one.

Now Adams has indicated he will go after Lou Rymkus, offensive coach of the Los Angeles Rams of the NFL, for his Oilers' head man.

Landry's signing made it appear almost certain that Dallas will have two professional football teams next season. The other team is the Texans of the American Football League, headed by Lamar Hunt, Dallas oilman and founder of the AFL.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

When the rabbit season ends on Jan. 4, I would like to see some fox drives on the Zepernick Area near New Alexander. For some reason when game is stocked on this area it disappears.

I am not excluding the possibility that great horned owls, o'possum, raccoon, dogs, cats and any other predatory bird or animal have found good eating on the Zepernick Area after pen reared pheasants were released.

Hunters reported seeing two red foxes and one gray fox at Zepernick's the first day of the hunting season. When it comes to food and cover on this area there is plenty of it.

The multiflora rose hedges are providing good travel lanes for wildlife while the permanent legumes and grasses provide excellent nesting cover. But still the game seems to disappear.

THE LAY OF the land in this section is a natural setting with the gentle rolling hills, woods and open fields, ideal for good fox hunting. The only road hazard would be Route 172 that separates the area, but I don't think there's enough traffic on this road to be considered a hazard for the hounds.

Only thing about a fox hunt, when a large group of hunters are present they don't stand still. A hunter can sit in an open field and a fox will practically run over you if he doesn't smell you or see you move.

In some ways a fox is very cunning, and in other ways one of the dumbest animals that lives. They depend mostly on their speed and smell to get away from danger.

JUST AS SOON as the ice freezes thick enough to support your weight, that is the time to begin ice fishing. Any fisherman who has passed up ice fishing doesn't know what he has missed.

I'll admit it is not as sporting as spring and summer fishing, but when it comes to taking fish, I believe ice fishing is much more productive than any other method.

That is not the complete story. All you have to do is build yourself a little light weight "shanty" on runners and drag it out to the spot where you wish to fish. Chop a hole about 10 inches in the ice and you are in business.

The purpose of the "shanty" is to keep warm. You can improvise your own heating system and catch bluegills in particular by the dozens.

E. Palestine Frosh Nipped by Chester

The Chester, W. Va., frosh jolted an East Palestine squad Tuesday night 35-28 in the second round of the Freshman Invitational Tournament held at Beaver Local.

Big gun for the Chester squad was Chuck Mullen, who brought home 14 markers. For the East Palestine cagers, Jim Bush was high scorer, with 11.

In the same tourney the Beaver Local frosh edged out a Boardman team in a thrilling overtime contest, 27-25.

Gary Shaw had a big night. Not only was he high scorer for the Beaver Local squad with 11, but he also brought home the winning basket in the overtime period.

For the Boardman squad, Brenner was the big gun with 14 markers.

Salem's freshmen will vie tonight against Chester in the finals while Beaver Local team will go against East Palestine in the consolation fray.

Hoyt Wilhelm led the National League with a 2.43 earned run mark with the Giants in 1952. Seven years later he led the American League with 2.19 with Baltimore.

Akron Edged by Toledo

Defeats Handed To Dayton, Xavier

By The Associated Press
Holiday tournaments monopolized the activity for Ohio college basketball teams Tuesday night, but only two state teams fared well in the midseason joust—and they did it within Ohio's friendly confines.

Two of the state's top clubs, Dayton and Xavier, lost big ones in southland festivals, only the second loss of the season for each. The Toledo Rockets edged host Akron 59-57, coming from behind with only 90 seconds remaining to take their first lead of the game. Toledo, in winning the Akron Invitational Tournament and its sixth game in seven starts, trailed twice in the first half by 10 points, but emerged with a 27-27 halftime tie. Akron's loss broke the Zips' five-game winning streak.

Lawrence Tech (Mich.) took third place honors by beating Western Ontario 68-61.

Ashland won its own tournament by beating Stewart Air Force Base of New York 93-91. It took two free throws in the last five seconds by Ashland's Dean Maddock to take the trophy. Mount Union beat Heidelberg 82-60 in the consolation match.

Tourney favorite, host and defending champion Oklahoma City needed an overtime period to edge surprising Bowling Green 80-78, to advance to the finals of the All-College Tournament. The score was tied 74-74 at the end of regulation play. Big Rex Leach and little Jim Darrow scored 26 and 25 points, respectively, in the game bid by the Falcons.

A Wake Forest second-half rally knocked Dayton out in the semifinals of the Dixie Classic at Raleigh, N. C., 61-50. The winners trailed 31-23 with 17:51 to play, but Billy Packer and Dave Budd teamed up to spur the Demons past Dayton in the final stretch. Wake Forest chalked up a sharp 57.5 field goal percentage to win it despite 18 and 16-point outputs by Flyer sophomores Tom Hutton and Garry Roggenbuck.

Xavier was whipped by Miami

(Fla.) 85-69 in the title game of the second annual Hurricane Classic in Miami Beach. Miami staved off a late Xavier rally. Jack Thobe notched 23 points and Billy Kirvin 20 for the Ohibians, but Miami's brilliant 5-foot-6 Dick Hickox rolled up 26.

Youngstown lost the consolation game of the Quincy (Ill.) tournament to Christian Brothers of Memphis 59-48.

Southern Illinois won the tournament, beating Tennessee A & I 89-84.

Regional Sites For State AA Teams Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus will be a regional high school basketball site this year under a new plan announced by the Ohio High School Athletic Assn.

Under the new setup, which uses numbered regions, Columbus will be host city for the four Class AA Region No. 3 teams on March 18-19.

The Central District winner will compete against representatives from tournaments at Athens, Canton and Martins Ferry.

Previously, Central District winners traveled to the Northwest Regional at Toledo and the Northeast at Cleveland.

The OHSAA said other Class AA events will be at Kent State (Region 1) with teams from Bedford, Kent, Willoughby and Youngstown; at Toledo (Region 2) with teams from Berea, Marion, Sandusky and Toledo; and at Cincinnati (Region 4) with two teams from Cincinnati and one each from Dayton and Troy.

In Class A, sites will be the same as last year.

Grid Observers Give Syracuse Big Win Margin

DALLAS (AP) — Syracuse has the greatest defense in the nation's college football. It is 96.2 yards per game, a fantastic average.

Texas, which plays Syracuse in the Cotton Bowl Friday, can't compare with that. The Texas average is 247.5. But the Longhorns' record shows they didn't have to stop the opposition in order to win. It also shows Texas won on occasion even though the opposing defense was better.

While the consensus leans toward a three - to - four - touchdown victory for Syracuse, the statistical facts might point to a closer struggle.

Syracuse is noted for keeping the ball most of the time. That might not work against Texas though. Texas had it only 47 times and Maryland only 49 yet won by only three points more than Texas.

Arkansas outgained Texas 251 yards to 234 but Texas won 13-12. Rice had 280 yards, Texas 202 but Texas won 28-6. Texas A&M outgained Texas 287 yards to 226 but Texas won 20-17.

Southern Methodist's great passer, Don Meredith, threw for 154 yards against Texas and still couldn't score.

Thus, it is seen that Texas has a good defense, too. It only works, however, when the going is the roughest.

Syracuse, on the other hand, never waited until necessary to throw up a strong defense. The most yards any team made against Syracuse was Navy — 184 yards — and Syracuse won 32-6 with a 204-yard barrage.

West Coach Unawed by Tough Foe In 35th Shrine Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—How do you go about beating a club you believe is as good a squad as ever assembled for an all-star football game?

That's the problem facing Coach Bill Meek of Southern Methodist University who heads the staff of the West for the 35th Shrine East-

West battle at Kezar Stadium Jan. 2.

"We can't match them in size or power," declares the West coach in sizing up the opposition that includes no less than 15 players from the Big Ten and three from Notre Dame. "They have just about everything you could ask."

But Meek isn't ducking for cover before the game starts and adds, "these are two of the finest squads ever assembled out here." He figures the West can win, but he isn't divulging battle plans. You can bet, however, the West will take to the air soon after the 1:50 p.m. (PST) kickoff of the nationally televised (NBC) struggle.

Starting quarterback for the West will be Don Meredith, a fellow who played for Meek at SMU and this past season completed 69 of 122 passes for 804 yards and 5 touchdowns. Wyoming's Jim Walden will be used both on offense and defense. During the past season he connected on 455 of 101 throws for 882 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Halfback Bill Bueck of Rice gives additional versatility to the offense since he can both run and throw.

While Meek has decided on Meredith as the starting quarterback, Coach Duffy Daugherty of the East still hasn't made up his mind whether he will open with Dean Look, who was all Big Ten for him at Michigan State, or George Izo, the 200-pounder from Notre Dame.

Duffy can field a line averaging 233 pounds per man or about 15 more than the West can muster. In addition to having Look and Izo, he has Pittsburgh's Ivan Tonic and such running backs as Ray Jauch and Bob Jeter of Iowa, Ron Burton of Northwestern, Bob Jarus of Purdue and Bob White of Ohio State.

Start The New Year Right In A Home Of Your Own

I believe the pride of ownership is instilled in all of us, in some greater than in others. The greatest tribute to that feeling is home ownership, mainly because the home is the foundation of the family, of all friendships and all happiness. Many people now own homes, but find them for some reason too large or too small for their present needs. These people are in a position to help. Then there are those who are looking to purchase a home of their own possibly for the first time, but are not sure how to go about it properly. I can also help here. Due to my fine assortment of homes that are now on the market, I'm sure I can help you find the home of your choice, in the price range that you can afford, so what ever your needs, contact

Calls for Research on Problem

Country's Drinking Water Being Polluted, Expert Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Our drinking water is being polluted by hundreds of new chemical products whose effects on human health are totally unknown, a water expert warned today.

These include plastics, detergents, and insecticides, and cannot be completely removed from water now by standard methods, said H.W. Poston of Chicago.

"We do not have reliable methods for predicting their effect on man. We don't know how to remove viruses from treated water. We don't know the effect on the human system of the constant accumulation of small increments of present-day chemicals."

Poston called for immediate and expanded research to find ways of assuring safe, plentiful water, in a report to the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. Funds spent on water research now amount to less than one cent annually per person in the country, said Poston, of the U.S. Public Health Service division of water supply and pollution control.

Problems of pollution control and adequate water supply will become more serious as population expands rapidly, said Poston and Arve H. Dahl of Washington, D.C., chief of the USPHS division of water supply and pollution control in Washington, D.C.

Dahl forecast that "super-cities already forming will stretch for unbroken hundreds of miles along all our great watercourses, coasts, and major highways."

Poston said today's wastes contain such things as synthetics, plastics, detergents, insecticides, industrial solvents, high energy fuels.

"It is estimated that 10,000 totally new chemicals are put to use each year. Each new product has several processes and each process has several by-products and will one day end up as part of our waste."

LOOK OUT, BELOW — Engineers study a special underwater television camera at a construction site in Boston. The camera was designed to be lowered to the bottom of a 30-inch, pipeline steel caisson, some 140 feet below surface level. Caissons, 144 of them, will support a new 52-story office building. The picture relayed by the camera shows the rock formations at the bottom of the caissons.
